Welcome
2018-2019
Previous Position & Location
Associate Professor of Psychology at Saint Mary's College of California in Moraga, California.

Family
I was born and raised in Venezuela, the daughter of immigrants from the Canary Islands and the first generation to be born in Venezuela. I emigrated to the United States on my own for College and California is now my second home. I have a wonderful husband and an amazing two-year-old son.

Past Year Non–academic Accomplishment
Finding this job and successfully moving my family from the Bay Area! Most of all, helping my son transition into preschool for the first time (and surviving the separation myself...).

Favorite Activities/Hobbies
Family time and playing with my son, actually having a conversation with my husband when my son goes to sleep, comedy in all its forms, good friends + good food, books, theater, live music. I am also a singer and would love to get back to music.

Ideal Way to Spend a Weekend
Sleep in, have a big family breakfast, low-key outing (farmer's market, walk in the Redwoods), meet friends for dinner.

Looking Forward To In Humboldt County
Slowing down, creating community, connecting with nature.
