Coming to HSU on April 1st
Pulitzer Prize-Winning Journalist Dean Calbreath

Wednesday, April 1, 2015
6:30 p.m.
Kate Buchanan Room

Dean Calbreath, a former business reporter for the San Diego Union-Tribune, is co-author of the book The Wrong Stuff. He was part of the Pulitzer Prize-winning team that exposed massive bribery involving U.S. Republican, Duke Cunningham.

Calbreath is an acute observer of local and national economic and political issues. His coverage of the Cunningham case resulted in the former Congressman being sentenced to eight years in prison. He will be speaking about the role of our press as a check on government corruption.

Calbreath is currently a reporter for the San Diego Daily Transcript and has taught classes at Grossman College, Stanford University and UC San Diego. He has been named one of the nation’s best business columnists by the Society of American Business Editors and Writers.

Sponsored by the Gordon Hadley Trust, Journalism Student Club, and the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication