

Have an opinion about the ITS infosec web pages?

Whether your job happens inside or outside the ITS department, if you have an opinion about the information security pages on this website, your chance to tell us about it is coming up this month. Pat Bitton, our Technical Writer, is putting together two focus groups to help us help you by making the infosec content of the ITS website as relevant and useful as possible. For example, we're considering moving a lot of the more detailed information to a wiki and off the public website. What would that mean to you?

Drop me a note at pmb22@humboldt.edu [1] or call me at (707) 826-5082 and I'll get you a place at the table.

Well, now's your chance to make your voice heard! Read on to find out how you can help make our web content more useful and more effective [2].

Source URL: <http://www2.humboldt.edu/its/infosec-opinion-story>

Links:

[1] <mailto:pmb22@humboldt.edu>

[2] <http://www.humboldt.edu/its/infosec-opinion-story>