Position: Assistant Unit Leader of Fisheries, California Cooperative Fish & Wildlife Research Unit

Location: Humboldt State University, Arcata

Position Info: Permanent, Full-time

Salary: $70,192.00-$91,255.00/year

Open Period: 5/8/2015-6/19/2015

Qualifications: U.S. Citizenship, Ph.D. in directly related field of study, educational background that meets requirements for GS-0482 or GS-0408 federal job series (Research Ecologist/Fish Biologist) at GS level 12.

Responsibilities: The Cooperative Research Units Program was established to facilitate cooperation between the Department of the Interior, universities, State natural resource agencies, and private organizations and to conduct programs of research and education related to fish and wildlife resource management. The selectee for this position will serve as the Assistant Unit Leader of Fisheries for the California Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit and by appointment will serve as an adjunct faculty member of the Fisheries Department at Humboldt State University in Arcata, CA, serving without compensation from the University. Preferred candidates will have a research focus on the ecology and conservation of salmonid fishes and their freshwater habitats. Responsibilities include:

- Planning, conducting, and directing research related to fishery or aquatic ecology, with application to contemporary science, policy, and management needs.
- Conducting research that is cooperator driven and provides scientific basis for management and policy decisions.
- Serving as a subject matter expert in fisheries biology or aquatic ecology issues, providing leadership and guidance to government and private agencies, and university representatives through participation in meetings, conferences, and work groups.
- Disseminating research results via final reports, peer-reviewed print scientific journals, online scientific journals, books, book chapters or other outlets. Making presentations on findings to scientific and conservation organizations.
- Contributing to the research, graduate student mentorship and teaching mission of the university.

APPLY TO: http://usajobs.gov for position announcement number ATL-2015-0741

For further information, contact: Dr. Peggy Wilzbach, Unit Leader; wilzbach@humboldt.edu