International Studies Major
Spring 2016 Course Offerings

CHECK YOUR MAJOR CONTRACT AND CATALOG YEAR!

The major changed as of the 2013-14 catalog year. Check your major contract and catalog year to determine what applies in your case. This information should be on your DARS and, if you have questions, there is guidance on the IS website. Also consult your advisor!

If you have not officially declared a Concentration, your DARS may not accurately reflect your progress. If this seems to be a problem, you should correct this as soon as possible via a ‘change of major’ form on the IS website. Discrepancies may delay your time to graduation.

As you plan - particularly as you schedule your time abroad - be SURE to refer to the course rotation for your required classes to ensure they will be available when you need them. This can be found on the IS site as well as the College website.

Also as you plan for your study abroad, be SURE to plan for any course substitutions and get permission for these BEFORE you go. Failure to do so may result in courses taken abroad not counting for your major.

SPRING COURSE LIST

The following course list includes regularly offered courses noted in the catalog as fulfilling International Studies requirements AND new or Special Topics courses approved as appropriate substitutes.

For Core Curriculum and Concentrations:

- Be aware that some courses are listed as “For catalog years prior to 2013/2014”; be sure to check your SPECIFIC catalog year.
- Courses marked with an asterisk (*) are not granted by any catalogs but relate to the topic

If you find classes that are not on this list, but that you believe would be appropriate to your concentration, bring the course description to your advisor and seek permission BEFORE you register.

One-unit courses must be combined with other courses in order to count towards the unit requirement in the concentration.
